The Normandy International Baroque Music Competition

Following two editions met with exceptional success and animated by candidates from all five continents representing the world’s most prestigious music schools, the Normandy International Baroque Music Competition celebrates the harpsichord for the first time, on the 350th anniversary of François Couperin’s birth.

In the unique atmosphere of the Chapelle Corneille, in Rouen, the new talents of baroque music will compete for substantial prizes and concert opportunities, preludes to an international career, before a jury chaired by Skip Sempé.

The Competition is presented by Vincent Dumestre’s Le Poème Harmonique
